This award is for $1,026,914.00 to Department of Labor and Workforce Development (hereinafter referred to as the DOLWD). This award is directed to DOLWD to continue the Denali Training Fund (hereinafter referred to as the DTF) which provides public training entities access to training funds that will support training and employment for Denali Commission (hereinafter referred to as the Commission) investments in rural Alaska.

The DOLWD will make available up to a total of $1,026,914.00 in training funds through the continuation of the DTF via a competitive application process. This process will include an independent review committee assembled by the DOLWD and approved by the Commission's Training Program Manager.

The DTF will provide grants to rural communities, businesses, and organizations for training activities that complement qualified infrastructure projects. Applications for these funds will be reviewed quarterly beginning July 2009 until the grant award of $1,026,914.00 is completely allocated. Awards will be made to training projects after positive review and negotiations are complete.

All selected projects under this award will be drafted into project authorizations and routed to the Commission for final approval before the project may proceed.

This includes construction, operation, and maintenance training for local residents to be employed on Commission infrastructure projects for the Transportation, Energy, Economic Development, Solid Waste, Health Facilities, Teacher Housing, and Multi-Use Facilities Programs. This also includes local management training, leadership, and/or capacity-building training.

DOLWD will leverage the DTF to the best of their ability through existing state training programs such as the State Training and Employment Program (STEP) and the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) retraining program.
